

A detailed line drawing of a chandelier. It features a central vertical rod with a decorative finial at the top. The rod is surrounded by four curved arms that extend outwards and downwards, each holding a light bulb. The chandelier has a square frame at the top and bottom, with decorative finials at the corners. A vertical dimension line on the left indicates a height of 24.375 inches, and a horizontal dimension line at the bottom indicates a width of 14.375 inches.
