Eliza-H

“Geometry In Motion” - Stephen Katz

A vision of modern elegance and engineering, the Eliza-H ceiling-mount fan—designed by acclaimed Chicago architect Stephen Katz—seamlessly merges sculptural beauty with unparalleled performance. Its uniquely crafted blades are precision-engineered to maximize airflow with effortless efficiency, reducing drag and optimizing motor power for a smoother, quieter experience. Even at rest, the Eliza-H captivates with its striking minimalist geometry, a perfect harmony of form and function. Crafted from cast aluminum and heavy stamped steel and backed by a limited lifetime warranty, the Eliza-H is more than a fan—it’s a statement of innovation and sophistication.
