In Between Days 1

D968S19356-1693

In Between Days 1 calls to mind the work of the distinguished 20th-century American artist Joan Mitchell, renowned for her contributions to painting, printmaking, and other paper-based media. This large-scale work on canvas mirrors Mitchell's gestural abstraction technique with a focus on expressive brushstrokes and a flurry of color. In this work, marks, lines, and shapes are purposely non-representational, yet they convey great emotion. Combined with a vivid color scheme in indigo, violet, cerulean, and moss, this accomplished painting invites the viewer to participate in an emotional experience.

An original addition to the exclusive ART by TA Collection, In Between Days 1 makes an artistic statement from abstract forms and evocative colors.
