

THEODORE ALEXANDER

Stop Thinking So Much 2

D2512S50225-4059

The period of time following Alexander the Great's death and the division of his empire is often considered to be the beginning of the Hellenistic Age. A historical moment in time that brought forth art characterized by trompe l'oeil, three-dimensional perspective, and carefully rendered forms in a diverse range of subjects and styles. In Stop Thinking So Much 2, the downward tilt of the jaw recalls the expressive movement and realistic anatomy that has defined the Hellenistic period's sculptural pieces. Partially obscured by a monochromatic abstract form, a brilliant allusion is made to the work's title.

A beautiful companion piece to Stop Thinking So Much 1, Stop Thinking So Much 2 is an exquisite work of art on textured paper. Part of the carefully curated ART by TA Collection.
