Precautions

Flat ground: Make sure the table is placed on a flat, solid ground to avoid tilting or instability.

Surrounding space: Leave enough space for people to walk around to avoid crowding around the table.

Even distribution: Make sure the tableware and food are evenly distributed on the table to avoid tilting due to excessive weight on one side.

Anti-skid mats: Use anti-skid mats or tablecloths to increase the stability of the tableware and prevent it from sliding.

Weight limit: Follow the weight limit provided by the manufacturer and do not place items on the table that exceed the recommended weight.

Proper distribution: Place heavy objects in a dispersed manner to avoid concentrating them in one place.

Regular inspection: Check the stability of the table regularly to ensure that all feet are in even contact with the ground.

Use of foot pads: If the ground is uneven, consider using adjustable foot pads to increase stability.

Safety of sharp objects: Avoid placing sharp or unstable objects on the table to prevent accidental injuries.

Child safety: If there are children dining, ensure that they are safe at the table and avoid bumping into the corners of the table.

Away from fire: Make sure the table is kept a safe distance from flammable objects (such as candlesticks and barbecue equipment). Safety utensils: Use heat-resistant tableware and tablecloths to avoid damage caused by high temperatures.

Regular cleaning: Keep the table clean and remove food residues and liquids in time to avoid slipping or breeding bacteria.

Proper maintenance: According to the type of material, regularly use appropriate cleaning agents and maintenance products to extend the service life of the table.

Maintenance Matters

Mild detergent: Use a mild detergent and a damp cloth to wipe the surface of the table regularly. Avoid using strong acid or alkaline detergents, which may damage the surface coating.

Deal with stains quickly: If there are food residues or liquid splashes, please clean them immediately to prevent the stains from drying

Light protection: Try to place the table in a place where it is not exposed to direct sunlight for a long time to prevent the material from fading and deformation.

Avoid scratches: Use a placemat or cutting board, and avoid cutting or placing hot pots directly on the tabletop to prevent scratches and burns.

Regular inspection: Check the joints of the table regularly to ensure that they are tight to avoid looseness and instability.

Adjust the foot pads: If you find that the table is tilted, check the foot pads and make necessary adjustments to ensure that they are stable.

Protective measures: When storing for a long time, you can cover the table with a dust cover to prevent dust accumulation
