Touch the Sky 1

D2205S43967-3548

Touch the Sky captures the essence of a charming Mediterranean mission church nestled atop a hill that overlooks the expanse of the sea. The church façade is a study of simplicity and timeless beauty. The mass of the whitewashed structure is punctuated by the wooden-door entrance and three small windows that are symmetrically balanced. A tower high above the entrance holds a church bell. At the apex stands a simple white cross. In the distance, rugged rock formations provide contrast as they jut up and stand in the teal-blue sea.

As its architectural form succeeds in touching the sky, a message of hope is communicated to the viewer in this original addition to ART by TA.
