Gilded Beauty: A standout like this requires no introduction. Yet this dazzling metal table clock is more than worthy of a red carpet rollout thanks to its commanding presentation. It's finished in high-gloss Rosewood Hall. Coupled with a shock of brilliant brass, it's a gleaming masterpiece that's certain to add full-on glamour and brilliance to any home or workplace.

Second Glances: Whether it's your second or third glance, you'll appreciate every detail of this modern desk clock. The warm and handsome wood is beautifully contrasted by a quartet of solid brass reeded columns. The dial is finished in brushed brass for a complementary look and features a circular spun numeral ring with black Roman numerals and diamond-cut edges. The protective glass shields the surface. The brass table clock features a protective felt bottom that fully protects the base, ensuring that any surface on which it's placed remains free of imperfections.
