Care & Maintenance

Warnings

Whether you need to address a stubborn stain or just want to keep your sofa looking beautiful for as long as possible, the best source of information is your sofa's manufacturer. However, there are a few general tips to keep in mind when caring for and cleaning your sofa.

Caring For Your Sofa

- If possible, rotate the cushions and pillows on your sofa every week for even wear.
- For fabric upholstery, weekly vacuuming will keep your sofa fresh by removing any loose particles.

Leather furniture should be dusted weekly with a soft cloth and treated with a conditioner every 6-12 months to keep it soft and lustrous.

- Professional cleaning is recommended about once a year.
- If fading is a concern (for both fabric and leather), take extra care to avoid placing your sofa in direct sunlight.

Cleaning Your Sofa

- Sometimes, spot cleaning can cause a wet-looking ring or fading. It's always best to have the entire piece cleaned by a professional. However, if you decide to clean on your own, check the cleaning code on your piece of furniture. (This may be found in the packaging information, under a cushion, or on the bottom of the sofa.)
- On fabric sofas, blot (don't rub!) spills as soon as possible with a clean, absorbent white cloth. Blot from the outside inward to prevent a ring from forming. If the upholstery fabric has a thick pile, you may try brushing the fabric with a stiff bristle brush. If you are going to treat a stain with a cleaning agent, test it ahead of time in a small, hidden area.
- On leather sofas, most spills can just be wiped away. However, old stains can be treated with lukewarm water.

Questions & Answers about Proposition 65

●What is Proposition 65?

Proposition 65 requires businesses to provide warnings to Californians about significant exposures to chemicals that cause cancer, birth defects or other reproductive harm. These chemicals can be in the products that Californians purchase, in their homes or workplaces, or that are released into the environment. By requiring that this information be provided, Proposition 65 enables Californians to make informed decisions about their exposures to these chemicals. Proposition 65 also prohibits California businesses from knowingly discharging significant amounts of listed chemicals into sources of drinking water.

Proposition 65 requires California to publish a list of chemicals known to cause cancer, birth defects or other reproductive harm. This list, which must be updated at least once a year, has grown to include approximately 900 chemicals since it was first published in 1987.

●What types of chemicals are on the Proposition 65 list?

The list contains a wide range of naturally occurring and synthetic chemicals that include additives or ingredients in pesticides, common household products, food, drugs, dyes, or solvents. Listed chemicals may also be used in manufacturing and construction, or they may be byproducts of chemical processes, such as motor vehicle exhaust.

●What does a warning mean?

If a warning is placed on a product label or posted or distributed at a workplace, a business, or in rental housing, the business issuing the warning is aware or believes that it is exposing individuals to one or more listed chemicals.

By law, a warning must be given for listed chemicals unless the exposure is low enough to pose no significant risk of cancer or is significantly below levels observed to cause birth defects or other reproductive harm.

●Where can I get more information on Proposition 65?

If you have specific questions on the administration or implementation of Proposition 65, you can contact OEHHA's Proposition 65 program at P65.Questions@oehha.ca.gov, or by phone at (916)445-6900.
