

1

Remove the slipcover from the package. Standing behind your furniture, loosely align the right arm of the cover (as indicated by the tag) over the right arm of the furniture. Do the same thing for the left arm.

2

Take note of the seam (also tagged) that runs along the inside back of the cover. Loosely tuck this seam into the crevice between the seat cushions and the back of the furniture.

3

Walk around to the front of the furniture and adjust the height of the fabric that drapes to the floor from the top edge of the seat. For kick-pleat models, center the kick-pleat on your furniture.

4

When you are pleased with the appearance, tuck and adjust the excess material into the crevices between the arms and the seat cushions and the back and the seat cushions.

5

Tuck a seam at the top of the arms if necessary. Complete the picture by tying the bows and smoothing out the wrinkles.
