Fluff up the foam

Fluff up the foam and leave it in a well-ventilated area for 1–3 hours to allow it to naturally regain its fluffiness. If you need it immediately, you can dry it in a dryer for 20 minutes or use a hairdryer set to the warm air setting to fluff it up.

Put on the cushion cover

Please distinguish between the backrest cushion and the seat cushion. First, grasp the edge of the fabric cover, slip the backrest cushion into it, and then place the seat cushion foam inside the fabric cover.

Iron out any wrinkles (if necessary).

If you notice any wrinkles in the fabric cover, you can gently iron it to smooth them out.

5 After completing the above steps, you will have a fluffy and comfortable recliner cushion.
