

Rey Mantel Clock 635218

The Rey metal mantel clock makes more than just a statement of time - it's a statement of style. Inspired by the beauty of found or stamped metals, it is truly a work of art.

Unique Style: This antique mantel clock features modern facets alongside traditional aspects with its curved base and circular and wedged metal shapes, which make for the hour markers. The clock is finished in brown with reddish undertones and gold highlights on the front of the frame and the hour markers, contrasted with the hour and minute hands in an antique gold finish. The dial is supported by a flat center disk that is joined to the outer case with the wedged metal hour markers.

Quartz Movement: Quartz, battery-operated movement requires one AA sized battery, which is not included.
