About Homture

Faced with silent frames holding precious memories, we asked a simple question: why should memories stand still?

Thus, Homture was born—the world's first AI-powered smart frame. We blend edge computing and AI imaging to make every photo come alive, creating living narratives that grow with you.

Technology That Feels Our AI is the spark that revives smiles and bridges distances. This is warmth you can see—where memories don't just live, but breathe.

Development History

Homture Magic Frame has successfully passed the production validation stage. We will provide gradual updates on the factory's production progress, so please stay tuned!
