Bedford Tabletop Clock 645576

Striking Beauty: It's the elegance of this antique table clock that's impossible to ignore. From its high-gloss walnut piano finish on the hardwood to its distinctive pattern, it stands apart from other timepieces for its outward beauty. Its handsome design is beautifully balanced by unique characteristics that capture a sense of enduring appeal. This makes it the perfect addition to any space, be it a bedside table, a home office, or an entryway.

Discreet Depth: At a glance, this traditional table clock commands attention — yet it does so in a most subtle manner. The arched silhouette alone lends it beauty, while a wood burl pattern graces the front and back. The sides and base are finished in black for a complementary look, while polished brass button feet provide support at the bottom. The waterfall bezel on this wood table clock has a polished brass-tone finish, while the off-white dial features black Arabic numerals, black hour and minute hands, and a brass second hand. It's all set behind a protective glass crystal.

Quartz Movement: Quartz movement requires one AA battery.
