

A black rectangular box is the central focus, lying flat. A small white rectangular label is affixed to its top surface. The box is partially encased in a larger, open cardboard box. The interior of the cardboard box is lined with clear bubble wrap, which is visible around the edges of the black box. The scene is set on a light-colored, textured surface, possibly a floor or table. In the upper right corner, a portion of another cardboard box with red text is visible.
