THE CONTEMPORARY CLASSICS COLLECTION

The Contemporary Classics Collection is comprised of the Xerxes, Teigen, Taylor, Tate, Averly, Izmir, and Everitt sub-collections. The contemporary classic designs bridge the gap between transitional and post-modern, with an overall classic sensibility. Rug patterns include abstract, geometric, overall, organic, patchwork and jacquard patterns. The hand-knotted rugs are well-constructed and suitable for all interior applications.

- Composition – Varying design options include bamboo silk, natural wool, natural silk, as well as wool/bamboo silk and wool and silk blends. Bamboo silk is a cost-effective alternative to cocoon silk. Bamboo silk is a well-performing alternative to viscose, because bamboo silk is highly resilient towards water spills and foot traffic. Bamboo silk is a semi-natural fiber, made from wood or bamboo pulp. It is considered a recovered fiber because it is made from reformed cellulose. Wool contains lanolin, an inherent stain repellent. Cocoon silk is very resilient to foot traffic due to its strong tensile strength, which is comparable to the tensile strength of steel.
- Treatment – Contemporary Classic Collection rugs respond well to Fiber-Seal, in case of dramatic scenarios, such as red wine spills on light color rugs. Stain treatment is not necessary, only an extra precaution. Please contact Fiber-Seal for inquiries.
- Care – Spot clean spills and stains with baby wipes, dish soap foam, or seltzer water. Vacuum regularly. Avoid using a beater-brush vacuum. Do not use in-house furniture cleaning services or harsh chemicals for area rug cleaning. Professionally clean with off-site rug cleaning company, only if needed. Good quality, hand-made rugs are meant to be low maintenance.
- Performance – Contemporary Classic Collection rugs perform well in high traffic residential settings, office corporate and hotel settings, and office public areas. The hand-knotted rugs are well-constructed and resilient, performing well for approximately 8-20 years, depending on the amount of use and the nature of application.
