Blue in My Corner 1

D2468S49472-4020

Blue in My Corner 1 recalls the early work of Robert Motherwell, the influential American Abstract Expressionist painter. This abstract composition on paper is marked by two contrasting blocks of color in snowy white and Aegean blue. A solid shape in steel grey punctuates the lower portion of the picture plane while hand-drawn marks provide a focal point. Embedded scraps of newsprint lend a bit of texture to the work.

A rejection of realism, Blue in My Corner 1 serves as a dialogue between poetry and art in this emotional work on canvas. An original addition to the exclusive ART by TA Collection.
