

The Longmeadow Platform Bed

- How We Make It
- The Longmeadow bed is made by skilled craftsman. From the handcrafted frame to its upholstering each stage of the process is hand work by an individual who specializes in the process. The cover is tailored of fabrics that offer the look and feel of fine linen but crafted of easy care, stain resistant polyester. Master upholsterers apply the foam, fiber and tailored fabrics to our hand assembled wood frames. Final touches such as decorative nails and tufting are individually applied by hand to uniform beauty.
