

Plastic Interlocking Deck Tiles

[Installation Manual]

ASSEMBLING PROCESS

1. Position the first plank

2. Align with the buckle on the other side.

3. Confirm and press hard the buckle slot.
The deck tiles can be freely spliced in multiple ways

(Optional)

Rubber Gasket x300

How to Use Rubber Gaskets?

Optionally, you might find the provided rubber gaskets helpful if you want to further reinforce the tightness of the connection. It is recommended to place 2-3 rubber gaskets per side. 2 rubber gaskets to be placed in the second and fourth buckles, OR 3 rubber gaskets to be placed in the first, third, and fifth buckles.

Suggestion for Unlocking Deck Tiles while Using Rubber Gaskets

Due to the reinforced tightness of connections, it is strongly recommended to unlock deck tiles gently, such that buckles will not be broken and therefore endure for a longer service time.

How to Care Your Deck Tiles?

1. Deck Tiles should not be installed in areas with a lot of standing water, such as in low spots after a rainstorm, as this prevents water from draining away under the tiles. Deck Tiles have a plastic base that allows water to drain away and gives sufficient airflow underneath, allowing the tiles to dry more quickly.
2. Regularly clean the debris deposited on the surface and between the tiles to maintain good drainage performance.
3. Furniture which is left in stationary areas of the decking can have an impact on the weathering of the tiles. We recommend regularly moving furniture around the decking area to allow for a more evenly distributed weathering over time.
4. Plantpots/planters/flowerpots sitting directly on decking tiles can stain the surface of the tiles, Planters continuously touch the surface of the deck, trapping moisture and preventing air from drying the wood beneath the pots. Planters should be placed on a plant stand to eliminate direct contact and allow air flow.
