Cooling Comfort for Warmer Sleepers

This Coolmax Pillow has a cooling pad on one side, making it a great choice for customers who tend to feel warm during the night.

The cooling side is designed to give a fresher, cooler feel against the head and neck, helping to improve comfort for those who dislike the feeling of heat building up around the pillow. Customers can use the cooling side when they want a fresher sleep surface, or turn the pillow over for a more traditional memory foam feel.

This makes the Coolmax Pillow a practical choice for anyone who wants the support of memory foam with the added comfort of a cooler sleep surface.

Ideal for Side Sleepers

This Coolmax Pillow is especially suitable for side sleepers because of its higher depth.

Side sleepers usually need a pillow that helps fill the space between the shoulder and neck. The higher profile of this pillow provides that extra support, while the memory foam allows gentle sinkage so your head and neck can settle into a more natural position.

This makes it a great choice for customers who want a supportive pillow with a deeper feel, while still enjoying the comfort and cushioning that memory foam provides.

Pillow Lifespan

With normal use and proper care, a Coolmax memory foam pillow should normally last up to 3 years.

Over time, all pillows naturally lose some of their original support and freshness. Replacing your pillow when it no longer offers the same comfort or support helps maintain better sleep posture, comfort, and cleanliness.
