FEATURES:

Rather than frothing with a bouquet of flowers at its apex, the vase-like body of the Cait table lamp sends light forth. The striated ceramic body in a lovely grass green brings texture to its spot in the room, the paleness of this subtle hue contrasted by the antique brass finish on the base, the hardware and the orb-like finial. A tan sand linen shade completes the composition, which stands 29.75" tall.
