CARE & MAINTENANCE

- When cleaning your cushion, use a cleaner that also deodorizes, is safe for your fabric and does not contain any harsh chemicals. Also, be sure to lightly brush or vacuum your cushion prior to cleaning. This will prevent dirt from entering the fabric while you clean.
- Apply cleanser to stains using a strong brush. When cleaning, do not rub or scrub the fabric too harshly. Use a damp sponge or cloth to remove the remaining cleanser after a minute or two.
- After cleansing, be sure your fabric dries thoroughly. To dry your cushion more quickly, leave a window open or run a fan nearby.
- Consider using a cover to protect your cushion if you have animals or small children. This will help you avoid stains.
- Once a week, remove dirt from the fabric by lightly brushing or vacuuming your cushion piece. This will prevent dirt from entering the fabric and assist in preserving its appearance.
- Turn or reverse the cushions on your furniture often so they wear evenly. This will also allow you to notice stains sooner. If you do observe a stain, remember to clean cushion with the weakest solution possible.
