

Tipover Restraint Device Included compliant Outreach

We are reaching out to you because we are missing important compliance information concerning your products.

Please fill out the requested information and return it to Wayfair prior to the date mentioned in the email.

Note: If your project is returned after the deadline listed in the email, or your product does not meet compliance with the applicable standard(s), this may affect the availability of your products on our website.

We ask that you confirm compliance with and/or certification to the following compliance standard(s):

- Tipover Restraint Device Included - Does this product include a device to prevent the product from tipping over? Tipover restraint devices (TRDs) include brackets, straps, or other specialized hardware

It is important that you do not leave the tag value field blank.

We truly appreciate your help in providing this important information. Please note that Wayfair cannot provide legal guidance regarding how to answer these questions. If you have any questions or concerns about whether a product meets any of the above compliance standards, please confer with your legal advisor or consult the following resources: <https://partners.wayfair.com/help/2/article/1451>. If you have any questions or concerns, please reach out to us at compliance@wayfair.com!

TIP: We encourage you to check our online training (in English or German) run by our Merchandising experts if you want to improve the merchandising of your products.
