

Note:

1. Since the bulb base types on the upper and lower layers are different, please carefully purchase the bulbs corresponding to the base type.
2. 52-inch ceiling fan lights are more suitable for larger rooms, please fully understand the size of this lamp, so as to avoid the size of the lamp does not match the size of the room.
3. The visual effect of the product picture may be different from the actual size. Please check the size and compare the space you need before placing an order.

Troubleshooting:

1. If some bulbs are on and some bulbs are off, please exchange bulbs for a try first, and then check whether the joint between the lamp holder and the lamp holder is loose or not. After passing the inspection, it can be determined whether the light bulb or the lamp holder is the cause of the unlit light.
2. If the remote control doesn't work after several times of use, it is likely that it has been transported and stored for a long time, resulting in the loss of the battery.
