

Semi-automatic meatball machine

Instruction manual

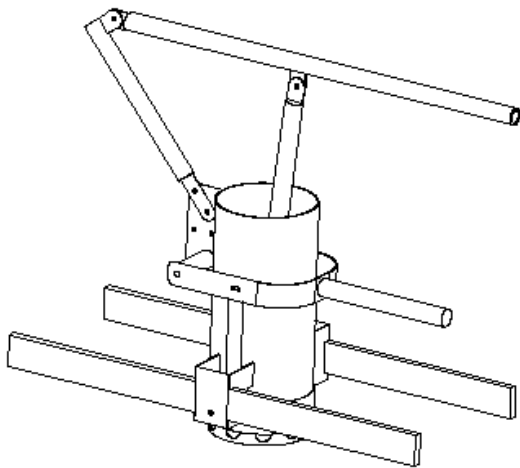

Dear users,

Hello! Welcome to use this semi-automatic meatball machine!

This kind of ball machine with excellent workmanship, excellent service into your life, this kind of semi-automatic ball machine with small investment, quick effect, easy to operate, widely applicable and other characteristics, once you have will become your good helper to get rich.

In order to let you in the future days, can better understand the use and maintenance performance of this semi-automatic ball machine, can enjoy the quality of service, we specially for you to write this manual.

I. Product indication

2. Precautions

2.1 As the finished products are not easy to transport, our factory has assembled them into semi-finished products of the ball machine. After receiving the goods, customers can install them according to the picture above. When using the cylinder wall for the first time, clean cloth should be applied to wipe the protective oil film clean before use.

2.2 Prepare meatball filling before use. Load the pressure plate of the meatball lifting machine into the meatball material. Plug the cutting handle to prevent leakage of filling.

2.3 Load the pressure plate and press the upper and lower handles with the right hand and left hand to make the ball fall evenly.

2.4 During work, press down the handle of the pressing surface and keep the handle of the cutting surface. After the balls are extruded to an appropriate size, press down the handle of the cutting surface and the balls fall into the pot.

3. Cleaning and maintenance

3.1 General cleaning, you only need to rinse and wipe with clean water.

3.3 Please try to avoid stacking sundries around the meatball machine.

Please pack and store it if it is not needed for a long time.

4. To the user

Thank you again for buying our products. Due to the particularity of food equipment, it can not be sold again. After customers buy, they can not return or exchange this ball machine for any reason. Read the instruction manual carefully, do not follow the operation instructions to use the ball machine caused by the loss, the customer's own responsibility.