How to adjust the gap between door panels?

When the space on the four sides is uneven, please refer to the following situations to adjust the hinges

Remove the screws on the top of the door panel, loosen the screws on the side of the door panel (30%), push the door panel inward, tighten the screws on the side, and after confirming that the door panel is flat, tighten the screws on the top.

Remove the screws on the top of the door panel, loosen the screws on the side of the door panel (30%), push the door panel outward, tighten the screws on the side, and after confirming that the door panel is flat, tighten the screws on the
