

MIASUN

An envelope that opens in no time.

Here's the story

Miasun is your personal shade, to go. The foldable Miasun beach tent tips the scales at just over a kilo, so it'll easily fit in any bag or suitcase.

Fancy being able to create your own private shade, anywhere, in just 90 seconds? This stylish cotton tent can be set up in three different configurations, so you'll always get the maximum shade from the sun. On the beach, in the park, or in your own back garden. Such as over Fatboy's inflatable Lamzac, for example. Miasun is available in an array of colorful patterns. So you'll always have one that goes really well with your bikini. Or a good excuse to buy a new bikini...

About the designers

Folding aluminum poles. A cotton canvas to protect you from the sun, while allowing that refreshing breeze to cool you down. It cannot get any simpler. And those were exactly the thoughts of two French friends, Hortense and Valériane, as they hauled around a parasol during a vacation in Australia. Their super-smart beach tent is big enough to accommodate two adults and two children. Seated or lying down. Summer, after summer, after summer.
