ERIN GATES
for wander & roam

one-piece reversible foam mats for wherever you roam...

our mats

our reversible mats are made of one continuous piece of eco-friendly foam, large enough for your little ones to wander and roam on and thick enough to soften tumbles and falls. Our mats are designed to live in any room of your home (not just the playroom) or roll up for easy storage when not in use.

- made of non-toxic foam
- eco-friendly
- waterproof
- nonflammable
- free of formamide, latex, BPA, & PVC
- durable
- hypoallergenic
- easy to clean

Upon arrival of your mat... Mats arrive rolled up with velcro straps. Unwrap mats and place on a flat surface with the curled edges facing down to flatten for a few nights. Save velcro straps for use when storing your mat. We recommend the use of non-slip rug pads to keep your mats in place while in use.

Cleaning your mat... Wipe down with a damp cloth or baby wipe. We do not recommend the use of any cleaning agents to preserve the life of the mat.

our story

.....

As a mama of three I realized pretty quickly that as babies start to crawl and walk they also start to tumble and fall...

To soften the falls, we started out with foam tiles but I couldn't seem to keep them clean...especially in between the edges. My kids also loved to pull them apart and the tiles would end up all over the house.

We set out to find a foam surface for our babies to wander and roam that wouldn't be an eyesore in our living room or the kids bedrooms...and when we searched and searched and couldn't find what we were looking for, we went about creating it.

After over a year of testing what felt like a hundred different mats in our home, the wander & roam mat was born. A one-piece truly non-toxic, super soft spot for babies, toddlers, and kids that blends in seamlessly with any home decor. Our mats are eco-friendly, hypoallergenic & easy to clean...use for play, yoga, and everything in between...
