So much of nature's bounty in a garden rises heavenward on a stem: such is the case in The Savill Garden for which our Savill Wall Sconce is named. Like a firefly perched upon a reed in Windsor Great Park, the one bulb beneath the tailored shade of this fixture effervesces when the light is switched on. The wall plate and stem, both in an antique brass finish, join the minimalist feel of the shade to make this an ideal sconce for a contemporary interior.
